9. SELECTION METHOD AND COMPOSITION OF THE JURY

9.1 – Methods for Candidate Selection:

The selection methods to be used will comply with the following selection criteria and respective weightings: curriculum evaluation (CA) and, if the jury deems it necessary, an interview (I) to be conducted, partially in English, with the candidates best placed in the CA, with a maximum of 5 (five). The interview, if conducted, will account for 40% of the final score. The final score, after the interview, will be obtained using the following formula: $CA * 0.6 + I * 0.4$, on a scale of 0 to 100 points. If there is no interview, the final score will be the same as that obtained in the curriculum evaluation.

9.1.1 The criteria and weighting factors for the curriculum assessment (CA) are:

- a) Academic/professional background and its relevance to the project's topics and activities – 25%;
- b) Verified knowledge and experience in data collection and analysis using qualitative and/or quantitative methodologies – 10%;
- c) Experience participating in R&D projects, including those leading to an academic degree – 25%;
- d) Co-authorship of scientific publications – 25%;
- e) Motivation and interest in longitudinal health data collection and health data processing – 15%.

9.1.2 In the interview (I), if held, the following will be assessed:

- a) Verbal expression and fluency in Portuguese and English – 20%;
- b) Specific knowledge required to carry out the work plan – 40%;
- c) Personal attitude and communication – 20%;
- d) Ability and motivation to work in a team – 20%.

9.2 – Tie-breaking Criteria:

In the event of equal final scores, the following tie-breaking criteria will be applied, in descending order: undergraduate course average.

9.3 – Reasons for Candidate Exclusion:

Candidates may be excluded from the selection process for the following reasons:

- a) Failure to meet the requirements specified in the call for applications (section 2);
- b) Candidates who obtain a score lower than 9.5 in any of the evaluation components will be considered excluded from the selection procedure and will not be assessed in subsequent components;
- c) Failure to attend the interview, when applicable, or unavailability to provide any additional clarifications requested will be considered as withdrawal from the selection process.

9.4 – Composition of the Selection Jury:

President of the Jury – Professor Doutor Nuno Albertino Barbosa Ferreira da Rocha, Full Coordinating Professor with aggregation at E2S|P.PORTO and Director of TBIO.

Full Member – Professora Doutora Matilde Alexandra Rodrigues, Coordinating Professor at E2S|P.PORTO and Researcher at TBIO, who substitutes the President in case of absence or impediment.

Full Member – Doutora Ana Catarina de Jesus Pais Pereira, Researcher at TBIO.
