Opening of an international selection procedure for the recruitment of one early-career PhD researcher under Decree-Law No. 57/2016 of 29 August, as amended by Law No. 57/2017 of 19 July.

1. By order of the Vice-President of the School of Health of the Polytechnic Institute of Porto (E2S|P.PORTO), Professor Nuno Albertino Barbosa Ferreira da Rocha, PhD, dated 21/11/2025, exercising the authority delegated through Order No. 7090/2022, of 4 April, published in the Diário da República, 2nd series, No. 107, of 2 June, and pursuant to Article 11(1)(a) of Decree-Law No. 57/2016, of 29 August, as amended by Law No. 57/2017, of 19 July, which establishes a framework for the recruitment of PhD holders aimed at stimulating scientific and technological employment across all fields of knowledge (RJEC), together with the General Law on Public Employment (LTFP), Law No. 35/2014, of 20 June, in its current version, and Regulatory Decree No. 11-A/2017, of 29 December, authorization has been granted to open an international selection procedure for the recruitment of one PhD Researcher, to carry out research activities under a fixed-term public employment contract, for a period of three years, automatically renewable for one-year periods up to a maximum duration of six years.
2. Framework of the position – The position is framed within the research activities and projects of TBIO – Research Centre in Translational Health and Medical Biotechnology, associated with RISE-Health, School of Health, Polytechnic Institute of Porto.
3. Workplace – The workplace is located at TBIO@RISE|Health, Rua Dr. António Bernardino de Almeida, 400, 4200-072, Porto, Portugal, and/or in other locations necessary for the development of research activities.

4. Number of positions to be filled – one (1).
5. Monthly remuneration – The monthly remuneration corresponds to that established in Article 15(1) of the RJEC, equivalent to remuneration level 33 of the Single Remuneration Table, in conjunction of Article 2(1) of Regulatory Decree No. 11-A/2017 of 29 December, currently set at a gross value of €2,351.53, according to Decree-Law No. 26-B/2023 of 18 April 2023.
6. Contract duration – The fixed-term public employment contract shall be concluded for a period of three years, automatically renewable for one-year periods up to a maximum of six years, unless, and without prejudice to other legally provided grounds for termination or expiry, in particular regarding the maintenance of project funding, the contracting scientific body proposes termination on the basis of an unfavorable evaluation of the researcher’s work, carried out under the applicable regulations.
7. Research area – The competition is open for one position equivalent to PhD Researcher in the field of Health Data Science. The work will focus on the development of intelligent systems, data collection, analysis and processing, predictive and real-time monitoring systems, and decision-support systems in health and well-being. The activities will be developed within ongoing and future projects in related areas, as well as the acquisition of new funded projects and support to laboratory management at TBIO.
8. Admission requirements – The competition is open to national, foreign, and stateless candidates holding a PhD degree in Health Data Science, or related fields, and possessing a scientific and professional curriculum suitable for the position, particularly in the areas described in paragraph 7 of this notice. Candidates with a PhD degree in non-related areas may also be admitted, provided their scientific and professional curriculum demonstrates a relevant profile for the position.
9. General admission requirements – To be admitted, national, foreign, and stateless candidates must, by the deadline for submission of applications:
  - a) Be at least 18 years of age, not disqualified from exercising public functions, not prohibited from exercising the duties of the position, and possess the physical and psychological profile required for the position, as well as compliance with mandatory vaccination laws, as provided in Article 17 of the LTFP;
  - b) Hold a PhD degree awarded by a Portuguese or foreign higher education institution, and in the latter case, hold, by the date of application, proof of recognition, equivalence, or registration of the PhD degree under the applicable law, in one of the areas described in paragraph 8.

10. Evaluation criteria – The evaluation of the candidates' scientific and curricular record focuses on the relevance, quality, and timeliness of their scientific and technological production in the field of Health Data Science over the last five years, as well as their training in the area of Health Data Analysis during the same period.
11. The five-year reference period mentioned above may be extended by the jury, at the candidate's request, when justified by interruption of scientific activity for socially protected reasons, such as parental leave, prolonged serious illness, or other legally recognized situations of unavailability for work.
12. The evaluation process may include an interview with candidates selected by the Jury for this purpose.
13. Scoring system – Candidates will be graded on a scale of 0 to 100 points. Approval requires a minimum score of 50 points in each of the assessment methods: curricular evaluation and interview.
14. Candidate requirements – Candidates must:
  - a) Hold a PhD in one of the areas specified in paragraph 8, with a dissertation relevant to the scientific field of the competition;
  - b) Preferably have experience participating in international or national research projects of relevance in the field, potentially with positions of responsibility and technical-scientific leadership;
  - c) Preferably have high-quality publications in relevant scientific journals in the field addressing key topics related to the position;
  - d) Preferably have experience in (co-)supervising PhD students (preferably) or Master's/undergraduate students;
  - e) Demonstrate the ability to lead or contribute to the preparation of project proposals or the acquisition of competitive funding.
15. Curricular evaluation criteria – Candidates will be evaluated as follows, considering only the last five years, except under the conditions provided in paragraph 11:
  - a) Scientific production, particularly in Health Data Science (50%): only the quantity and quality of publications in journals indexed in JCR-Clarivate at the time of publication will be considered, especially as first author, as well as proven active participation in project submission and acquisition of funding;

- b) Training in Health Data Science (20%);
  - c) Scientific development plan, including the acquisition of new funded projects and participation in laboratory management at TBIO (30%).
16. Second phase – interview – In a second phase, the jury will interview candidates who obtained at least 50 points in the curricular evaluation, with the purpose of:
- a) Clarifying aspects related to research results and research experience (50%);
  - b) Assessing motivation for the application, communication and expression skills, and interpersonal and conflict management abilities (50%).
17. Final ranking – Candidates will be ranked according to their final score (FS), calculated as follows:
 $FS = (\text{score of the first phase} \times 80\%) + (\text{interview} \times 20\%)$ .
18. Jury composition – The jury, appointed by order of the President of E2S|P.PORTO, in accordance with Article 13 of the RJEC, is composed as follows:
- Professor Catarina Mateus, PhD, Coordinating Professor at E2S|P.PORTO and Researcher at TBIO (President);
- Professor Nuno Barbosa Rocha, PhD, Coordinating Professor with Habilitation at E2S|P.PORTO and Director of TBIO (Member, who replaces the President in case of absence or impediment);
